- you pay for clicks on your ad, it means actual clicks on the banner, not displaying it, besides, one user is one click and it is counted for up to a month, no matter how many times they click,
- the fee for a click, i.e. redirecting to your website, is only a few pennies, good right?
- promote affiliate links from affiliate networks join them with your ads by buying your own clicks and shortening your own links, just paste the affiliate link with your tracking pixel that you downloaded from the affiliate network in place of the website address.
